Short Biography

Dr. Natasha Sistrunk Robinson is the President & CEO of T3 Leadership Solutions, Inc. and an Associate Certified Coach (ACC) with the International Coaching Federation (ICF). She is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy (2002), former Marine Corps Captain, and former federal government employee of the Department of Homeland Security. She obtained her doctorate degree (DMIN, Urban Ministry Leadership) from North Park Theological Seminary and graduated from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary Charlotte (cum laude, M.A. Christian Leadership). With more than 20 years of leadership experience in the military, federal government, academic, and nonprofit sectors, she continues to shape generations of the world's best leaders.

Dr. Robinson is the editor of Voices of Lament: Reflections on Brokenness & Hope in a World Longing for Justice (features 29 Women of Color); author of the Journey to Freedom: Exodus Bible study; her memoir, A Sojourner's Truth: Choosing Freedom and Courage in a Divided World; Mentor for Life: Finding Purpose through Intentional Discipleship, its accompanying leader's training manual; and the Hope for Us Nicene Creed Bible study. She is a sought-after international speaker, consultant, mentor, and executive leadership coach. Having published more than 100 articles, Natasha writes to equip readers in their pursuits of leadership, mentorship, discipleship, racial equity, and systemic justice. She is also host of A Sojourner's Truth: Conversations for a Changing Culture podcast.

Dr. Robinson is the Visionary Founder and Chairperson of the North Carolina-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit, Leadership LINKS, Inc., where she cultivates an intergenerational and multi-ethnic Network of leaders who are committed to mentoring and raising up the next generation of Black girls and young women who lead, and use their skills and resources for the greater good of humanity.
